Death of Mrs. M. C. Morgan

The funeral of Mrs. M. C. Morgan, held at her late home on Railroad street Sunday afternoon, was largely attended.

Rev. A. B. Ross officiated. The bearers were O. H. Wilson, Clement Cady, D. A. Barrows, W. G. Jones, George Conger, Dr. E. H. Scott. Burial was in Cambridge.

Mrs. Mary Cady Morgan, daughter of Rufus and Mary Burgess Cady, was born in Cambridge, Dec. 4, 1848, where her childhood was passed. She was for many years a successful teacher, and the larger part of her teaching was done in the public schools of St. Albans.

About 1890 she became the wife of Dr. James Morgan of Cambridge. Soon after his death, which occurred in 1895, Mrs. Morgan came to Johnson, where she has since resided.

Nearly three years ago she underwent an operation, and since that time has been in increasingly feeble health. Death came suddenly Friday morning, Nov. 18, from heart trouble. Mrs. Morgan was a cultured, refined woman, interested in everything that tended to uplift the community.

For many years she had been a member of the Congregational church and a faithful attendant as long as her strength permitted. She is survived by several nephews and nieces, three of whom, Mrs. O. H. Wilson, Miss Mabel Austin and Mrs. R. G. Prentiss, live in Johnson. Mrs. Morgan will be missed by many friends.

Among those from out of town to attend the funeral were a nephew, Clement Cady of Sweetsburg, Quebec, and a niece, Mrs. Taylor Mead of Windsor.

Education Never Ceases.

The wisest fellows are the ones whose education isn't complete, and won't be complete as long as they can live, observe and think.

We shall hold our Annual Church Bazaar on December 7th in the woodman Hall. There will be a sale of work in the afternoon and evening; also many other things on sale that you will need for Christmas presents. Then there is the usual good supper. Who does not like a Corn Chowder Supper? It will be ready at five for those who eat early and ready at any old time for those who eat late.

We are going to have a good social time as well. Surely, we wish to make money but want also to provide a good time. So bring your best social disposition and don't wait to be entertained. If you want a good supper, a good present for your friend, and a good time, you are the person we want to see at the Bazaar. Will those who are giving fancy etc. leave it at Lupam store or Wheeler's.—advertisement.

Weasel is Lightning-Like.

Swiftness of motion is a requisite for many wild animals of the smaller kind. It is one of their most important means of defense. Perhaps no known animal possesses this in a higher degree than the weasel. He is the "lightning flash" among all animal life.

BURLINGTON

THE HOLIDAY SEASON

There is an art in giving—giving right—giving the right thing and giving it in the right spirit!

It is not quite four weeks to Christmas.

We have many, many reasons for rejoicing this particular yuletide.

The war is over!

Limitation of armaments is sure.

The days of wars are at their close!

We are fast recovering from the after-war depression!

Better times are arriving. The "Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave" is to be enveloped in a prosperity greater than man has yet known!

Truly, the Christmas Day approaching should be the great day of rejoicing!

Burlington has prepared for the Christmas season.

The shops are already showing Christmas goods. By another week the city will be in the full swing of the season.

Burlington is prepared to receive the visitor, to supply his every wish, to equip him fully in his gift-giving and to send him homeward rejoicing!

Perhaps never in the commercial life of the Queen City has there been more money invested in stocks especially designed for the holidays. Surely, never in its history have the merchants displayed a greater energy and interest in equipping their shops with the latest to be had in substantial and sentimental gifts.

The Burlington of 1921 bids you welcome!
